WHY MERCHANTS GO GRAY

A local merchant has received the following letter, which he thinks is a gem:

"Dear Sir: I have your statement showing that I owe you $79.50. I am enclosing cheque for $5, for which please send me a receipt. I am sorry that I cannot pay more at present, as money is quite scarce right now. My living expenses are very high and I find it hard to get along. I will try to send you another payment of $5 when I will sell my hay in Nov. I cannot pay you more at that time as my daughter finishes college this year and that costs a heap. I might add that we have had to build a shed for the Ford, so as to put the 'new car' in the garage. I have promised the missus a trip to Niagara in the fall. I feel this is coming to her, as she has been working quite hard. We cannot go sooner on account of having the house remodelled some. Farmers around here are in a hard place financially with the price of gasoline as it is at present. Yours truly,"

The Women's Missionary Society of the United Church will hold their annual Thanksgiving meeting in the parlor of the United Church on Thursday, November 13th at 3 p.m. They have been fortunate in securing Mrs. A. Sytle of Calgary to give the address. To add to the interest of this meeting the ladies have arranged a program of music after which tea will be served. A hearty invitation is given to the ladies of town and district to come and spend a pleasurable and helpful afternoon.

ON THE MAIN ROAD

Rev. Stanley Russell, B.D.: One of the defects of Canadians is their failure to realize the tremendous influence they exert on the mother country. Canadians appear to have only a faint conception of the fact that their example, their experiments, their successes and their failures as a nation have an immediate repercussion in Great Britain and in the world at large. Canada occupies a unique position in the world as the main highway of human intercourse and thought. In addition to her contiguity to the United States, she opens her doors on the east toward a troubled and mystified Europe and on the west to an ancient and mysterious East. She is not situated on any back street but on the main thoroughfare carrying the feet and thoughts of men. Lift up your eyes and look around, and realize that yours is a world-mission—a great task of world leadership.—Exchange.

The following is a copy of the letter on which the Vulcan Hockey League acted and which was considered sufficient authority to go ahead with their arrangements:

"Calgary, Alta., Oct. 2nd, 1930: G. D. Munro, Vulcan, Alta. Dear Sir: In reference to your letter of August 30th regarding your application for admission to the Southern Alberta Senior Amateur Hockey League, I beg to advise that by a majority vote your application has been accepted and it will therefore be necessary to prepare your Club for the coming season. The annual meeting of this league will be held at the Palliser Hotel on Sunday, November 2nd, 1930. Wishing you every success, yours very truly, Ralph B. Wilson, President."

And the following letter was received Monday:

"Mr. G. D. Munro, Vulcan Hockey Club, Vulcan. Dear Sir: I regret to inform you that the Southern Alberta Senior Amateur Hockey League at the annual meeting yesterday rejected your application for admission to the group this season. The majority of the Clubs represented at the meeting were in favor of admitting your team but it was found impossible to get an unanimous vote in favor as provided in the constitution of our League. The chief arguments used by those opposed to your entry at this time were the lack of proper transportation facilities, the doubt as to whether your town could field a team equal to the calibre of the other teams in the league or not, and the effect that the entry of your team would have on the drawing power of the other clubs of the league in that vicinity. However the teams in the league agreed individually, to each play one game in your town this winter, the object being to assist you

VULCAN WILL PLAY WITH FOOTHILL HOCKEY LEAGUE

Vulcan Hockey Team report that they have secured entry into the Foothills Senior League—other teams in League being Nanton, Staveland, Claresholm, Macleod, and possibly Lethbridge. This will be a good fast League with many players in the various towns, and Vulcan will have a chance to show the fans that they have a team good enough for admission to any league in the province. Further details will be given next week.

LOCAL ITEMS

The second reading of the parking by-law was given at a council meeting on Monday night. Will the public please take due notice.

There weren't so many complaints about hard times when a man didn't consider it a disgrace to go around with a patch on his pants.

Chet Wallace and Charlie Steiner of Vulcan went hunting deer on Sunday, November 2nd to Beaver Dam Camp, west of High River. We wish you the best of luck while hunting.

K. R. McLean of McLean & Anderson, Sight Specialists, 224 8th Avenue—West, Calgary, visits the King Drug Store, Saturday, November 8. Make appointments at the Drug Store.

The Georgian Singers gave a pleasing concert in the United Church on Friday. The audience was appreciative, but was not so large as the occasion deserved.

The Vulcan Co-operative will take only Live Chicken and Fowl on Wednesday, November 12th. The highest market prices will be paid. Turkeys, Geese and Ducks not wanted.

Don't forget your far-away friends this Christmas. At least remember them with a greeting card. An inexpensive and appreciated thoughtfulness. The Advocate's book will fill your wants.

Halloween night proved to be very interesting in Vulcan, when about one a.m. just as the midnight train was in, the fire alarm sounded. Some unknown person phoned the town hall from the Vulcan High School saying the school was on fire. Nearly everyone in town was awakened for a foolish false alarm.

Monday evening a nasty automobile accident occurred about two miles north of town. A car driven by Mr. R. H. Wellman, Cardston, was overturned into the ditch causing an injured face for the driver and cuts about the head for his wife and mother who were passengers in the car. Mr. Wellman was not seriously hurt but the ladies both had to take treatment at Vulcan hospital. The car was badly damaged.

Friday night, October 31, was celebrated at the Twin Coulee school by a Halloween party and masquerade dance. The first prizes for the best dressed man and woman were won by Mr. and Mrs. E. Lilly, representing Uncle Sam and his wife. Comic costume prizes for man and woman were won by Mr. Debb Lilly and Mrs. Charlie Smith. There were some exhibitions of step dancing; and dances of a few years ago were many. An enjoyable time was had by everyone present. This Friday, November 7, another dance will be held at the Harvey school house.

The Women's Missionary Society of the United Church will hold their annual Thanksgiving meeting in the parlor of the United Church on Thursday, November 13th at 3 p.m. They have been fortunate in securing Mrs. A. Sytle of Calgary to give the address. To add to the interest of this meeting the ladies have arranged a program of music after which tea will be served. Local Booster Writes on Hockey Situation

Well, dear readers it seems to be a case of "abandon hope all ye who tread on your neighbor's corn."

The news that the hockey delegates brought back from the league meeting was not what was expected in most quarters, and to many it did not show very good sportsmanship on the part of our opponents.

To clear the air and refute some rumors that have been going around we have been permitted to print the correspondence in connection with the application of Vulcan to the Southern Alberta Senior "Amateur" League.

The following is a copy of the letter on which the Vulcan Hockey League acted and which was considered sufficient authority to go ahead with their arrangements:

"Calgary, Alta., Oct. 2nd, 1930: G. D. Munro, Vulcan, Alta. Dear Sir: In reference to your letter of August 30th regarding your application for admission to the Southern Alberta Senior Amateur Hockey League, I beg to advise that by a majority vote your application has been accepted and it will therefore be necessary to prepare your Club for the coming season. Well, that is the whole situation in a nutshell, and nothing more need be said here. It requires no imagination to put your finger on the spot.

Oh I almost forgot, the Vulcan delegates were asked to approach the writer of these notes, and ask him to moderate his criticisms. I might state that one of the delegates has been talking to the writer quite often during the last forty-eight hours, and his remarks were not fit to print. So we will let it go at that.

Now don't run away with the idea that the hockey club is dead just because some of our "friends" wish it was. We are as strong as ever, and will have more news to spill next week.

We are not as a rule inquisitive but we would like to know where certain party got all the information about the rink, the players, and the team signed by the hockey club.

YOUNG PEOPLE PRESENT PROGRAM AT KIRKCALDY

LOMOND NOTES

(Too Late for Last Week)

Mr. and Mrs. A. Shaver are moving to Irricana the end of the month. We wish them a pleasant trip.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Williamson and son Wendell were Lethbridge visitors over the week end.

We are very glad to report that Mrs. W. F. Hanna of Armada is home from the Calgary hospital.

The Lomond community hall is progressing quite rapidly. It is expected that it will be completed in a couple of weeks or so.

Friends of William J. Burne are sorry to hear that he is not doing so well as an abscess has formed on the other side thus delaying the operation for penditis again.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Halstead and Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Adams were to Lethbridge visiting the latter's daughter, Mrs. A. A. Lew.

Women's Institute girls' club held a sale of pies in the show room of the Ford garage. The sale was a great success, the girls clearing $7.

The W. A. of the St. John's church will hold a sale of fancy work at the home Mrs. Badgely on Saturday, November 1st.

Lomond was well represented at the Third annual supper program and dance at Reid Hill on Friday night. A good time was had, the event being well attended.

in organizing a senior team in Vulcan and at the same time to prove beyond doubt whether or not your town is ready for senior hockey. Personally I hope that your executive will see fit to accept this arrangement and I can assure you that the majority of the clubs in the league wish you every success in your efforts to organize a senior hockey club which will be a credit to the sportsmen of the town of Vulcan and district. I believe that the acceptance of the proposal will work out to the advantage of your town as well as to the league. There is another point to be taken into consideration. By accepting our suggestion your team will be in a position to enter the provincial play-offs on an equal basis with the winner of our league championship, which is a matter of considerable importance. I might state that the arrangement under which our clubs have agreed to play against your team at Vulcan is, on the basis of actual expenses to the visiting clubs. Your club will be called upon to post a guarantee covering the expenses 48 hours before the time of the game. Further I might mention that some of our clubs may wish a return game from your club, but that is a matter which would have to be worked out between the two clubs concerned. Providing an open date could be secured the league could offer no objection to such a game or games. Yours sincerely, Ralph B. Wilson, President Southern Alberta S.A.H.L."

Well, that is the whole situation in a nutshell, and nothing more need be said here. It requires no imagination to put your finger on the spot.

NEWS TO US

The following recently appearing in Colliers Weekly, tells Canadians something about our Old Age Pensions which most of us did not know:

"It's ridiculous not to have old age pensions in the United States. Look at Canada. Their report for 1928 showed that 450 people, American born, who moved over into Canada, are receiving old age pensions there. We've found out that there's an old Japanese man in British Columbia who gets the pension. We've traced down three Syrians and one Turk, a couple of Algerians, a Greek, a Chilean, a Latvian, whatever that is, and 285 Russians who are living on the Canadian pension. You know how the Canadians hated the Germans during the war. Well, there are 173 Germans on Canadian old age pensions today; and 837 Austrians. Altogether there are about 35,000 old folks on the Canadian old age pension rolls."

ARMISTICE DAY

Armistice Day will soon be here, which is a day imprinted in the minds of all, not as being one of "National" importance but of "World Wide" importance. The extent to which this day when it occurred was lauded by people of every nationality cannot be measured, and the relief to the pent up suffering of relatives anxiously concerned about the welfare of their own will never be forgotten.

We owe to Canada's 60,000 men who gave their lives, a solemn tribute as Canadians. November 11 is the day set for this observance of this ceremony.

The Poppy Tag Day, observed locally on November 11 is one which overshadows others in our National Life and merits all loyal support. It is linked inevitably in our minds with Armistice Day, and the two are fittingly observed, as nearly together as may be. The government employs disabled men to make these poppies in order to provide a means of employment for them. The time thus spent occupies their hands and minds and helps to release them from discouragement. All poppies bear the "Vetcraft" stamp. When they are sold, the proceeds in turn go for the relief of widows and orphans of returned men.

FIFTEEN MILLION GIFT

A gift of $15,000,000 was given by Edward Harkness, an American billionaire to Great Britain to be used for its most pressing needs. Without doubt there is a great deal back of this gift. Mr. Harkness is of English descent and while he made his fortune in America, yet he has a love of Britain, sympathy for her misfortunes, admiration for her gallant struggle with debt and taxes, gratitude for the part she played in the Great War, and, possible, some slight apprehension as to what might happen to the world if Britain collapsed or withdrew from active participation in the affairs of this planet. Evidently Mr. Harkness does not regard his donation as simple charity. It is more in the nature of life insurance, mingled with a sense of mild regret that Britain which did more to win the war than any two of the Allies, should come out at the short end of the horn. The world was saved from democracy but the large expense had to be assumed by Britain. Other countries can beg off for one reason or another, but Britain seems to know no way of settling her debts except by paying them. He was willing to cancel what the world owed him if the world would do likewise, but the United States, where Mr. Harkness lives which had won all the money in the war would not consent. This may explain the reason of the gift. Of course the giving of $15,000,000 is a fine gesture on the part of one individual and it may be the means of convincing the U.S. government that their policy of getting all the money in the world together and sitting on it, is not good business. Britain had the right idea when she proposed cancelling international war debts and starting afresh.

KEEP MONEY AT HOME

The time of the year is at hand when we of the West, are called upon to gird on our armor of defense to protect ourselves against the swarm of super salesmen let loose upon the plains. This is popularly supposed to be the period of the year when money flows freely in Western Canada and guns from far-off business houses are trained upon us. Flocks of agents arrive at every door and in the next two months the average housewife will be offered great opportunities to buy everything from needles to threshing machines.

To be sure the salesmen are total strangers, more often than not representing some unheard of concern and the whole undertaking is dependent on implicit trust on the part of the victim. Sometimes the salespeople are pathetic, sometimes fascinating. But all too often they make sales. They peddle their dubious wares up and down the country, encroaching on fields in which they have no right, and returning none of their profits to this country in which they operate. This is the main objection to these fitting salesmen. They take a great amount of money out of this district which is never returned in any form to the local district. The same sums spent with local business houses would be distributed in various methods in this vicinity. They would return to us in the forms of taxes, staple purchases, support of every religious, philanthropic or social effort. Every organization and society in town looks for its promotion and support to local people. But how are local people to be in a position to give as liberally as they would like if business which should gravitate to them, is picked up by transient poachers.

It is not that most of us are deliberately disloyal. In succumbing to the lure of the super salesman, we are unwitting but weak. A wholesale campaign of discouragement might prove effective in black listing this district so that the average person would be released from the hourly demands on time and money.

One method of discouragement might lie in trying to sell the agent himself something. As he stands at the door all ready to bubble "Mrs. Blank, you have been recommended to me as a highly intelligent woman, likely to appreciate this remarkable offer," Mrs. Blank might forestall him with, "Do come in. I just want to take a few minutes of your time to show you this magnificent chair or table or what not that I am offering on good terms for today only." If she could prepare a high-powered, non-stop sales talk, she would be definitely and completely rid of her enemy, besides treating herself to a pleasant time. A little co-operation would rid the community of a definite nuisance.

In a season like this, when a spirit of mutual helpfulness must be the aim of every community, we should discourage outside expenditure.

TRIBUTE TO PRESS

A splendid tribute has been paid by the publicity department of the Canadian Wheat Pool to the newspapers of Canada for their impartial presentation of news concerning its activities throughout the past year and for the fair editorial comments they made regarding the difficult situation. The officers of the pool recognized that during the past year the organization felt the stringency of the world-wide economic depression from which Canada has not been exempt. In common with other commercial institutions, it has been confronted by exceedingly difficult problems, and its activities could easily have been misinterpreted to the public. On the other hand, it can be truly said that the press of the country in its treatment of this great question, which affected not only the welfare of western wheat interests but the prosperity of Canada in general, endeavored to present the case sympathetically and intelligently.

"A French-Canadian Wedding in 1830"

A hundred years ago when our great-grandfathers and grandmothers were marrying and giving in marriage, the French-Canadians made the occasion one of the most colorful and joyous in their lives. Reconstruction of such a wedding with the utmost fidelity to costume and customs has been done by Alderie Bourgeois, Montreal newspaperman and revue writer, who has written a sketch with the above title for the Quebec Festival, held at the Chateau Frontenac, October 16-18. Musical settings will be by Oscar O'Brien, Montreal composer and song writer.

One of the old customs was the arrival of uninvited guests, attracted by the good cheer and general gaiety, who paid their scot with songs and dances. These will be represented in the sketch by Lionel Daunais, Miville Belleau, Emile Boucher and Fortunat Champagne, of the Bytown Troubadours, who will keep things moving with true French-Canadian verve, singing in all 16 old wedding songs harmonized by Mr. O'Brien. There will be choruses of men and women's voices, a quartette of young girls, fiddlers and folk dancers.

"MELODY MIKE" TO BE BROADCAST.

Radio fans in Canada will be introduced to a new and original form of radio entertainment this winter with the inauguration of Monday evening hours from "Melody Mike's Music Shop", a broadcast over the Canadian Pacific Railway's transcontinental network.

"Melody Mike", as the above picture shows, runs a music shop near the station at a railway divisional point. The shop becomes the centre of numberless adventures in which Mike himself, Mary, his wife ("Molly Maloney, as wuz"), Ted and Larry, their sons, Scotty Macgregor, an argumentative but friendly neighbor, and Luck-a-day Liz, quite the most surprising of the characters, all play parts. All are competent and enthusiastic musicians, and their adventures are sprinkled with charming music, old-time favorites and popular song hits. Also, the fame of their musical Monday evenings has spread beyond the division, and when a train halts at Melody Junction there is a stream of visitors to Melody Mike's emporium, many of whom contribute to the enjoyment of the evening.

The first programme from "Melody Mike's Music Shop" will be broadcast from 9 to 9:30 p.m. on Monday, October 6th, by the following stations, linked together by the broadcast transmission system of the Canadian Pacific Railway's Telegraphs, CKAC, Montreal, CHRC, Quebec, CKGW, Toronto, CJGG, London, CFCO, Chatham, CKV, Winnipeg, CKCK, Regina, 10-RR, Moose Jaw, CFQC, Saskatoon, CJRW, Fleming, Sask., CKCA, Edmonton, CJCJ, Calgary, CKLC, Red Deer, and CKWX, Vancouver.

TENANTS NO VOTE

In Civic Elections Supreme Court Says Tenants Do Not Vote

Under the Municipal Elections Act tenants of land have not the right to vote in Municipal elections. This is the finding of the Appellate division of the Supreme Court of Alberta, in the appeal against the election of A. J. Cawthorne as Councillor of the M. D. Stockland by the unsuccessful candidate, King. As the rejection of protested votes still left Cawthorne with a majority, the appeal was dismissed, but as Judge Macdonald in district court had affirmed the right of tenants to vote, the opinion of the appeal court was asked.

The members of the appeal court concurred that the Municipal Districts Act did not confer the right to vote in municipal elections on tenants of lands.

A WISE IDEA

The Wainwright Star gives advice to its readers as follows:

Don't be stampeded by high pressure collectors into paying all your money outside your own community and have nothing left for the local merchant and dealer. You might need their assistance before you reap another crop. Remember your own community first; you've got to live here and you owe it to yourself to see that your community does not suffer more than is necessary during times as strenuous as these.

A merchant must satisfy the whole sale houses (and they the manufacturers) before credit is allowed them there is very little sentiment about bank drafts, they've got to be met. So just as he must meet his obligations so he must look for his accounts to be paid.

From early spring accounts have been mounting up on the assumption that they would be cleaned up in the fall. The fall is here and the expected revenue is proving mighty slim. It will be impossible to pay all debts even though we are told that this district has one of the best crops in the province.

DO YOU KNOW?

American tourists spent this year, in Canada, over $350,000,000.

Premier Ramsay MacDonald has been notified that his salary will be increased. The premier of Britain is entitled to a higher salary than he now obtains.

The famous Chateau Frontenac in Quebec City is to have a new wing at a total cost of $1,000,000 and work will begin on this at once. The annex is to be built between St. Louis and Mont Carmel Streets on the property which includes the old Militia Department office building facing St. Louis Street.

ELECTRICAL POWER

The power projects now under development in Canada will necessitate the expenditure of more than $100,000,000 a year during each of the next three years. Expenditures of this type have a far reaching influence upon business. Factories will naturally follow electric power.

Some people are just mean enough to hope that the woman who was out picking raspberries in Ontario last week, got caught in the snowstorm.

DEAR CANADA

Grattan O'Leary in a current Canadian magazine has struck a responsive chord in every heart, by attacking this Canada of ours.

Notwithstanding the fact that Canada has increased her production, and in some instances at reduced cost of bread, coal, milk, fruit, bacon, beef, eggs and butter and so on, there has been a greatly increased cost of most of these commodities to the consumer.

Although we are a great agricultural and fruit growing country, the cost to most of us is a great deal more than if we lived in a much less favored land.

In spite of the fact that Canada raises each year more than she consumes, prices are higher than twenty years ago, and higher in Canada than in most countries.

It will be remembered that in 1919 and in 1920, when the high cost of living was a live topic, Consumers Leagues and Housewives Leagues sprang up, and flourished with such vigor that a certain result was evident. There were even prosecutions for profiteering.

Since that time however, prosperity gradually grew, and with more money available people forgot the high cost of living. Work was plentiful, good wages general, and a little gouging here and there was passed over.

Now, however, we are back to the time when every dollar must bring value, and the need for an investigating board is very evident. What is the use of living in a rich, productive country if it costs all and more than the average working man makes, to buy the necessities of life. It is the purchasing power of any wage which gives wages or salaries any value. "Who is profiteering?" asks Mr. O'Leary.

HIS MASTER'S VOICE

Phonograph Records May be Made at Home by Means of Electricity

A Canadian company is turning out a new device by which records may be made in the home by means of electricity. They will correspond with the moving pictures of home snapshots.

It is part of a radio phonograph instrument so that all three functions operate with the same mechanism. To make the records a simplified microphone is used. The words or music picked up by the mike is amplified passed through the phonograph pickup system and impressed on a special record, six inches in diameter and of cellulose material. A special blunt-headed needle is used for record and for playing back the record. The special use of such home records would be as an aid in a voice study, or correction of personal faults in voice or instrument. It could be used to send personal message, or recording the baby's first words, second words, etc., or to perpetuate any conversation or special occasion. Indeed it could prove a most embarrassing invention, but extremely valuable on occasion.

JUBILEE ISSUE

A splendid contribution to the history of the oil industry of Canada is furnished in a special Golden Jubilee number of the Imperial Oil Review. This issue, includes not only the 50 years of Imperial Oil history, but a comprehensive survey of the search for oil throughout all Canada.

One of the most romantic stories is that of the early drilling for oil in Petrolia, and how since then, men trained in that field have scattered over the world in their investigations.

Every new invention and development of the modern age, on which oil has a bearing, has expert treatment in this issue. Geology, refinery principles, engineering, etc., all receive interesting attention.

One of the arresting articles records that the first oil refinery in Canada in 1862 received 100 barrels of crude oil per week. From it was distilled 25 per cent. lamp oil. The balance was waste. Today Imperial Oil refineries receive 75,500 barrels of crude per day—and ninety-eight per cent. is refined into gas, oil, wax, grease and more than 250 petroleum products.

EXPERT'S WORK

A Scotchwoman once applied to a solicitor for advice. After she had detailed all the circumstances of the case, says the Tatler, the lawyer asked her if she had stated the facts exactly as they had occurred.

"Ou ay, sir," she replied. "I thought it best to tell you the plain truth; you can put the less till't yourself."

HEATING MONTANA

In six weeks, Alberta gas will be piped over the border to heat the Great Falls district of Montana. The Range Oil and Gas Co. secured permission from the Dominion Government several months ago to export this gas from the old Rogers Imperial well, located 25 miles east of Coulters.

This well came in in 1924 with terrific force and a recent test showed an open daily flow of 60,000,000 cubic feet. It is expected that other wells on this structure will be drilled in order to maintain adequate supply.

The company has nothing to do with distribution.

WAS RUSSIA RESPONSIBLE

The opinion is expressed by the editor of the Montreal Standard that the R 101 came to grief at the hands of a Bolshevik conspirator, disguised as a mechanic, who tinkered her for a crash. It will be remembered that an additional boy was put in on the R 101 a few weeks before the fatal trip. A demand has been made for a list of the workmen engaged in that work. The R 101 was advertised as the forerunner of a fleet of air liners that would bind the Empire closer together and incidentally bring Calcutta within five days of London. Russia has an eye on India and wants to get control there and was prepared to go to any length to prevent the successful passage of the air liner to India.

ASK BID FOR OPERATION

"It seems that a printer somewhere down in Texas got slightly peeved at a letter from a doctor who wanted bids on several thousand letterheads and statements, different sizes, different grades of paper and printed in various colors, with the request that the forms be kept standing for possible reprint orders," ran a story in Forbes Magazine.

"So Mr. Printer diagnosed the case carefully and answered something in this manner: 'Am in the market for bids on one operation for appendicitis—one, two and five inch incision, with and without nurse. If appendix is found to be sound, want quotations to include putting same back and cancelling order. If removed, successful bidder is expected to hold incision open for about sixty days, as I expect to be in the market for an operation for gallstones at that time and want to save the cost of cutting.'"

HOLDING ITS OWN

The October issue of the official magazine of the Provincial Telephone Dept. points out that although the telephone business has not escaped general industrial depression, the Alberta phone system is holding its own and is in some instances much better off than other systems in different parts of the country. One district including Calgary, Banff and Red Deer showed a September increase in collections of $7,000 over the same month of 1929.

TO SPAT—NOT TO SPAT

The fact that Premier Bennett and Mr. Guthrie were the only two with spats in a photograph taken of the delegates attending the Imperial Conference has been given some attention. It is not exactly said whether Mr. Bennett and Mr. Guthrie should have been spatless, like the rest, or whether the others should have been spatting like the Canadian delegates. Possibly both Mr. Bennett and Mr. Guthrie will be asking themselves the question "Should we, or should we not, have worn spats?" These photographs are some of the troubles Mr. Bennett has evidently to contend with. In the Daily Mirror there was a photograph of the Toastmaster at a Guildhall banquet lighting the cigarette of Prince Arthur of Connaught, who is said to be sitting next to "the daughter of the Premier of Canada."—Lethbridge Herald.

KEEP GOOD CREDIT

One of the most sensitive and scary things in the world is money. Just let people begin to talk hard times, and the coin of the realm immediately begins looking for a hiding place. This is not fiction, but rather what has happened at certain periods since money became the medium of exchange.

It is the circulation of money that keeps things going, and those who have obligations to meet and can possibly meet them, should do so at this time. Every dollar spent—every debt paid—makes times just that much better.

Under our system the storekeepers are called upon to give out a lot of credit. In fact, in a large measure, they carry the credit of the country. The merchant has to keep his credit good and he can only do this by meeting his obligations.

With cheap land, and comparatively speaking, moderate taxes, the west as a whole, should ride the storm better, possibly, than any other agricultural area on the continent.

The best way to help stabilize conditions in general is to begin at home, and there isn't anything that will help more than everyone who possibly can to pay their obligations.

The merchants have given credit with a smile. They have given it on faith. It is up to those owing bills to pay them if possible, thereby keeping their own, the merchants' and the community's credit good.

SQUANDERING

Most Valuable Helium Gas from Turner Valley Being Wasted in Stoves

"In Canada, we are accustomed to see our natural resources squandered for purely commercial purposes," Professor McLennan of Toronto University, stated in Toronto. "The burning of millions of cubic feet of helium in western furnaces and stoves is, just now, one of the most spectacular instances."

Turner Valley, he said, was exploited for commercial purposes, the gas being burned in furnaces, and stoves and the by-products of the oil fields used for motor cars and power plants.

Despite the fact that Dominion government investigators reported unfavorably in regard to the extraction of helium from Turner Valley gas, several years ago, Professor J. C. McLennan, who is convinced valuable helium gas is being burned in stoves in Calgary.

Following his investigation Professor McLennan declared that helium could be extracted from Alberta gas at $100 a thousand cubic feet. Government investigators pointed out that even if this were the case, this cost was many times the cost of extracting the gas from the Texas fields.

ELECTRIC MOTHER

After fifteen years of painstaking labor and experiment W. B. Coleman of Virginia announces complete success in artificial breeding of bobwhite.

"But," says Coleman, "I use no quail mothers and no domestic hens. Every chicken is banded from the game farm." This eliminates poultry diseases.

Everything is done by electricity. The quail eggs are hatched in electric incubators holding 5,000 eggs and the baby quail are bred in electrically heated brooders elevated three feet above the ground. The average hatch last season was 79 per cent and over 68 per cent of the birds hatched were reared to maturity. Over 4,000 quail were raised.

HARNESSING STRAW

Practical Farmer Makes Use of
Farm Straw to Create Gas

A farm near Great Falls has demonstrated the gift of adaptation by manufacturing on his farm an engine capable of supplying him with gas from straw stacks and weeds.

He was attracted by the news that a St. Paul plant was manufacturing all sorts of marketable products from straw. He paid a visit to the plant, studied the technicalities of operation and returned to his farm to work out his scheme. By inquiries at Experimental Farms he learned that a ton of straw yields 10,000 cubic feet of gas with by-products of charcoal, tars, oils, etc.

Starting with a miniature plant, he succeeded in producing gas and so on. He was then ready for his farm size machine which he installed. Now, from straw and weeds, he creates enough gas to light and heat his home. He has all modern conveniences gas operated. Besides he has a hundred uses for the liquid that comes off. They are useful for creosote, shingle stain, sheep dip and charcoal for poultry.

In crude form, the liquids supplied from this small plant supply the own and neighbors with requirements.

It is an extraordinary development of independent light, heat and power. The straw is placed in an air tight cylindrical oven, baked by heat from a fire box underneath. The charcoal is left in the oven, and moist vapor passes, like smoke, into a condenser, where the condensable liquids of tar, oil, creosote are extracted, the purified gas passing to a storage tank. From this tank a gas main leads to household appliances in which it acts precisely as artificial gas made from coal.

DAMAGES IN APPEAL

School Teacher Carries Case to Supreme Court. Teachers' Alliance Interested

Reversing judgments of the Alberta courts, the Supreme Court of Canada today awarded a school teacher damages for an alleged unlawful termination of his agreement with a school board. The court gave judgment in favor of the plaintiff, in the case of homas Richards against the board of school trustees of the Athabasca School District No. 839, Alberta.

The case was of special interest to the Teachers' Alliance of Alberta. Richards claimed that during the summer holidays of 1928 he notified the school board he intended to be absent, and asked for assurance that his position would be secure for him on his return. The assurance was given, but subsequently notice was mailed him terminating his agreement. The notice was not delivered and another teacher was employed.

ADVERTISING

Sometimes advertising men find a disposition on the part of merchandisers to offer splendid bargains without advertising — without advising their large numbers of regular patrons about it. The result is that the occasional shopper in that store who happened to be in on the day or days when the special lines were offered, got the advantage. Does this create good-will? People are busier than they were. They look to their newspapers for shopping news.

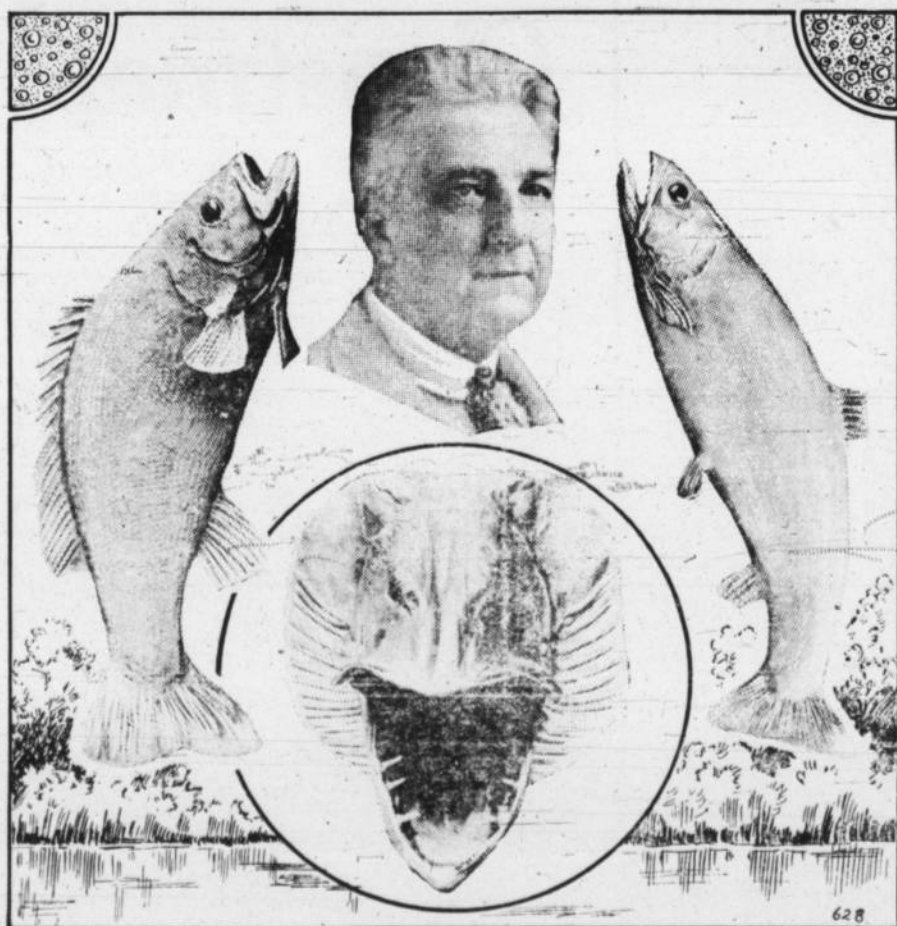

Advertising is the promoter of sales; the business stimulant, as necessary as the sales staff. Advertising is the store window in print sent into the homes of the buyers. It has the same power today, tomorrow and yesterday.

You believe, perhaps, that you should get money in first to pay for advertising. That is putting the cart before the horse.

Advertising, properly written and designed, distributed in the homes by the proper medium and conscientiously and honestly backed up, not only pays for itself but produces a dividend. It is an investment, not an expense. It is an assurance that business will be good — why wait?

The Vulcan Advocate specializes in presenting the sales messages of its advertisers in a pleasing manner to its many readers, whose interest is assured by a paid-in-advance subscription list reaching out into the homes of this fine farming district, as well as in the town itself.

Championship Fish from Ontario Waters

Results are out for the three major fishing competitions held in Ontario each year at French River, Nipigon River and Devil's Gap Bungalow Camps, all three contests being sponsored and trophies awarded by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company.

They were: a 49 1/2 inch muskallunge taken from the French River by F. R. Spotts, of Houston, Texas, weight, 35 pounds, seven ounces, girth, 25 inches. It took nearly three-quarters of an hour to land this beauty. A six pound speckled brook trout from the Nipigon River caught by Edward Pohlman, of East St. Louis, Ill., 22 1/2 inches long and 14 inches in girth. A black bass from the Devil's Gap Bungalow Camp,

Lake of the Woods, four pounds, 1 1/2 ounces in weight, just over 21 inches long and 13 1/4 inches in girth. It fell to the rod of J. C. Jones, of St. Louis, Mo. Each winner was awarded a framed certificate signed by the judges of the contest and were also given gold lapel buttons. Fishing was exceptionally good this year in these sections and the winners were up against the stiffest kind of competition. Lay-out shows, centre top, J. C. Jones, winner of Devil's Gap contest; left, top, Lake of the Woods Black Bass specimen; right top, Nipigon River speckled trout specimen; lower centre, record head of muskallunge taken at Devil's Gap.

WHERE MONEY GOES

The crusaders who have stayed with the Turner Valley Oil Field have expended great sums in order to reach the present stage of high efficiency.

It is well known that the Valley product is of very high gravity. Heavier oil is brought into Calgary refineries, to blend with the Turner Valley product for commercial gasoline, and this year production has reached the point where crude naphtha will have to be exported to neighboring provinces to offset the amount of crude brought in for blend ing.

The expense of drilling has been heavy, and various equipments have come and gone. Rotary tools introduced lowered costs until limestone was reached, but at that stage it has been known to cost $100 a foot in materials used up. This was prohibitive, so the latest development has been the introduction of Sheldon Burden hydraulic feed, automatic control, rotary equipment. This may in time displace diamond drill and ordinary rotary.

Geological conditions also show considerable faulting which increases the difficulties of drilling. There have been many crooked holes in wells drilled with rotary tools. But automatic feed tends to maintain straight holes.

The freezing of wells in Turner Valley is a serious problem, and the various causes of this are being attacked. Freezing may extend over a period of time resulting in serious loss of revenue. The freezing is difficult to control, and the cure appears to be in keeping up sufficient temperature below ground. This may be done by high pressure maintained at the top of the well. This results in reducing the flow of gas and oil considerably, but on the other hand ensures steady production over a long period of time.

Operating wells at high pressure is at present to be the only permanent solution of freezing.

Conservation of revenue is allied with that of markets. These wells are drilled in order to make money from the product, but the problem of market exists for independent companies. The Royalty company has a contract to supply the city of Calgary, but the independent companies are denied the city of Calgary, yet are obliged to waste their product. Independent markets for independent companies seems to be the likely solution. This would ensure all operators with a market and the revenue necessary to offset the operation of wells at high pressure.

LIPTON'S LIFE

Born in Glasgow Tenement. Now One of the World's Rich Men and Keenest Sportsmen

Sir Thomas Lipton's life has developed like an Alger book. From small beginnings he now has world-wide fame, not only in mercantile lines but particularly in sport. He was born in 1850 in a Glasgow tenement. He made poor headway in school, and it wasn't till he saw a "Boy Wanted" sign, that he realized he would do better working.

Working with boxes and bales in a warehouse on the Clyde, he got the taste for ocean travel. At 17 he went to America to make his fortune. He heard that fortunes were to be had in New Orleans so he went there as a stowaway, worked in various jobs, and as he knocked about learned that the secret of success lay in selling people something they simply had to have—food. By working on the tobacco plantations double labor, he finally saved $500. Back he went to his native Glasgow and made his humble start in 1870 with his "Thom as Lipton's" store. By and bye he opened a branch, dispensing to people the necessities of life. Branches were opened all over Scotland, and he made enough money to turn to pleasures.

It was naturally yachting that drew him. By this means he met, royalty, and was knighted in 1898 by the Queen. At the same time his tally of stores stood at 600 branches over the British Isles with tea, cocoa and coffee plantations in Ceylon, his packing house in Chicago, and farms factories and bakeries in England.

One of the closest of his few close friends was the late Lord Dewar who travelled a somewhat similar path.

In 1902 he got a baronetcy and set about making a suitable coat of arms. Embodied in this are a sprig of tea plant, and of coffee plant, with motto—"There's no fun like work."

Sir Thomas Lipton now lives in marble halls, surrounded by endless trophies of yachting enthusiasms. His favorite interests are billiards, yachting, driving. Today he is an English institution, as keen in his appreciation of life as the boy who answered the "Boy Wanted" sign—three quarters of a century ago.

CANADA'S FEELING

Writes in Current History Passes Opinion on Canadian Attitude of Mind

Canadians desire to live in peace and amity with their American neighbors but have no intention of foregoing their autonomous partnership in the British Commonwealth, for the sake of any great economic prosperity which might come with absorption in U.S. They believe they enjoy a better existing political and social order.

For one thing they have an infinitely more elastic political system, so that adjustments in the interest of the country may be made without stress or strain.

The administration of justice is efficient, and rapid and lawbreakers receive short shrift. Canadians are appalled by exploits of American lawless elements and believe that they live less dangerously and have a sounder social structure.

The two countries are closely knit. Scarcely a Canadian home that has not some member on the "American side." And on the other hand thousands of Western Americans have been Canadianized on the prairie provinces. Canadians winter in Florida and California, while Americans summer in the natural beauties of Canada.

The relations of these two may become strained at times but they have too much in common ever to have deadly quarrels.

BRANDS SPOIL HIDE

Harry Scott, Canadian Trade Commissioner, writing of prospects for the Canadian cattle trade in British markets, and of branded cattle says: "Practically the only complaint made against Canadian cattle was on account of branded hides, branding being regarded as depreciating the value as much as 8 shillings ($1.94) per hide. Otherwise Canadian cattle have been highly regarded on this market, and if the previous standard is maintained in current shipments, a satisfactory trade should again develop."

Least damage is done if the brand is put on the neck or the front of the shoulder, where it avoids the more valuable parts of the leather made from the tanned hide.

It is increasingly important that the position of the brand (where one is really necessary) and the dehorning of all cattle should receive careful and immediate attention.

In all cases, if the iron is used on the ribs or the hip from the pine bone down half-way to the hock, the value of the hide is greatly depreciated.

A motor truck manufacturing company established at Vancouver 21 months ago at a cost of a quarter of a million has been very successful its production for the first nine months of the year more than equaling that of the whole of last year.

SELL IT THRO HOGS

Feed Your Cheap Grain to Hogs and Get a Profit

Whether to sell grain through livestock or for cash has been in the past a much discussed question. Heretofore the attraction of selling grain for cash has been the low amount of labor relatively involved and the quickness of the transaction.

Tabulated records have been made of late in estimating the return from feeding grain to hogs. Where milk supplements are available it has been found that 100 lbs. of hog is being produced with the equal of 400 lbs. of grain, while experts are using even less.

Much depends on the skill with which the hogs are fed. When 500 pounds of feed are used to produce 100 pounds of hog, a hog at $10 per hundred, would return a value of $1.20 a bushel on wheat; 68c on oats or 96c on barley. When the feeder has got his feeding to such a science that he can produce on 100 pounds of hog for 375 pounds of feeds as has been done, the wheat would pay him at the rate of $1.60 a bushel, the oats 90c, the barley $1.28.

If hogs ran as low as $6 per hundred, the poorer grades of wheat, etc. would still give value per bushel.

It is understood that it is advisable to mix the grains. A good ration for growing pigs is equal quantities of wheat, oats and barley, and for finishing, a bushel each of the same grains.

GETTING ALONG

Pedestrians Develop Original Ideas To Secure Rides

One of our local farmers was driving his truck north on the Calgary highway. Just north of town, he passed a wayfarer, limping along, bowed down with an enormous sack of belongings. Though not in the habit of giving lifts to strays, he was filled with compassion, pulled up, and offered the pedestrian a ride. With great groans the man deposited his sack in the truck and climbed in. After a few miles, the farmer turned off the main trail and stopped to let the laborer pursue his northward course. Obligingly, the owner of the truck, reached back for the sack to hoist it overboard. He braced himself for a heavy pull, when up it flew like nothing at all. "See here," he said: "What are you pulling? What's in this sack anyway?" "Just hay," grinned the pedestrian, "nothing but hay. You'd never have given me the lift, if I had been travelling light, but all weighed down with a big sack folks always take pity on me, and give me a ride."

The farmer had to admit that it was a pretty good racket.

RID OF POOR COWS

Poor Milkers Should be Fattened on Cheap Grain and Sold Off

Herd improvement work is making excellent progress in Canada and herd improvement associations are doing good work in every province. Saskatchewan is showing a good step forward, for in 1928 the average of the cows entered in the dairy tests was 260 pounds butterfat per cow. In British Columbia where cow testing work has been longer in practice the average for 1929 was 331 pounds.

Now is the time, when dairy products are low, for the dairyman to get rid of his unprofitable cows. With lower grain prices he can get them ready for the block by a few months' feeding, and thus get a good return for his grain.

The infant daughter of the Duke and Duchess of York was christened Margaret Rose, with water brought from the Jordan.

WHAT IS AMATEUR

Sport Writer in Macleans Shows Up Shaky Foundation of Amateurism in Canada

With the war that has been raging in the sport world, regarding the use of the word "amateur" and its meaning in sport, an article in a recent Macleans is very interesting. It is written by Frederick Edwards, and sweeps the cloak of hypocrisy from Amateur Hockey as conducted generally through Canada.

The crime, in the writer's opinion, lies in the furtiveness and stealth which marks the whole system—qualities which least of all should be associated with sport.

No doubt the writer has dealt himself all kinds of grief, speaking right out in meeting. But at that, he is speaking to some purpose. His article concludes with some straight hitting.

In Great Britain an amateur is one who plays games for fun, and a professional is one who plays for profit. That is all.

"So it comes about that in England we have the pleasing spectacle of peers of the realm, princes of the royal blood of India, lawyers and merchants, parsons and postmen, tinkers, tailors and candlestick makers, amateurs and professionals, playing side by side or in competition with one another in country and club cricket, and rugby and association football.

"On the other hand, in Canada we find an honest professionalism out-cast and a pseudo-amateurism encouraged. In order to protect their previous amateur standing in which is involved the amateur standing of their team mates and opponents' hockey players who need the money are required to scheme and pretend and perjure themselves. Responsible officials, refusing to face the facts, condone practices which make of our best non-professional hockey clubs speakeasies of sport purveying a synthetic and bootlegger, amateurism to their supporters.

"Straightforwardness, sincerity, truth; surely these are the rock-bottom foundations of real sport. If we are to have big gates and paid performers, let us at least be frank about it. Give the players a fair share of the money they pull into the rink; but give it to them openly as clean money honestly earned through their skill on the ice, not shabbily disguised as pay checks for jobs they do not perform.

"Let's make hockey honest again."

USED FERTILIZER

A number of farmers of this district have this year experimented on small plots, with the phosphate fertilizers. Samples have been collected from the plots by the company turning out the product, but as yet no official returns have been received to serve as a guide for future use, or to demonstrate the advantage in the use of such fertilizer.

From the casual observation of some of the farmers using it, no great difference between the fertilized plots and general run, was noticeable. However, it is easily conceivable that the grain may, under testing, prove superior.

On one farm there was a noticeable difference on the summer-fallow land, and although little difference was seen on spring ploughing it is thought that results might be much more evident next year.

There is considerable interest attached to these experiments, and official returns both on wheat and oat

BRIGHT HOG FUTURE

Official of Alberta Government Tells of Swine Breeding in Denmark

A.A. McMillan of the Federal Agricultural department, addressing Alberta Swine Breeders, spoke of the fine demand for purebred breeding stock wherever he went in Alberta.

Declaring that hogs were the bright spot in the agricultural picture at present, the speaker said that only a lower price complex which farmers seem to possess at present could materially lower prices. The facts indicate a period of security during the next year or two, he stated. A greater home consumption has been created during the past few years as a result of an improved product, and whereas it is the common impression that Canada's hog population has decreased, Mr. MacMillan pointed out that on the basis of a five year average the total of hogs in the Dominion shows a creditable increase.

Drawing lessons from a visit he made to Denmark last year, this authority stated that Canadians, like the Danes, must learn to think alike concerning type, have an interest in marketing, and ensure a regularity of supply. In closing, Mr. MacMillan threw out a challenge to Alberta swine breeders to make their voice felt in the establishment of policies affecting the future export of pork, particularly since increases in these exports must come largely from the west.

VULCAN REPRESENTED AT HOCKEY MEETING

After a discussion that lasted fully two hours, the Southern Alberta Amateur league, at its annual meeting held over the week-end at the Palliser Hotel, decided to carry on with five clubs the same as last year, namely the Drumheller Miners, Calgary Bronks, Calgary Maroons, Turner Valley-Okotoks Oilers and High River Fliers.

The application of the Vulcan club for admission to the league was turned down, after it was discovered that the constitution called for an unanimous result, in granting teams a franchise. A mail vote taken a few weeks ago, favored Vulcan three to two.

The league, in refusing to admit Vulcan, however, will grant that team five exhibition games, one with each club, and from these contests the league hopes to determine whether Vulcan is capable of providing hockey the calibre of senior company.

The chance to demonstrate class, will undoubtedly be welcomed by Vulcan and if they deliver as well as G. D. Munro and Colin McInnes predict, then there will be no question about their affiliation for the 1931-32 season.

The Vulcan representatives announced that the town council had gone to considerable expense in enlarging the rink, while the fans of the town had hopes of seeing high class hockey.

FOOD IN STORE

Canada in Fine Shape for Winter so Far as Storage Products Go

This is the time of the year when housekeepers like to feel that their cellars are well stocked against the rigors of the winter.

Similarly the Dominion, with the vast storage facilities of big business houses, is facing the winter with a larger stock of produce on hand than for the past five years. On October 1st, Canada had in storage:

Creamery Butter . . . 37,775,786 lbs.
Dairy Butter . . . 950,489 lbs.
Eggs . . . 51,720,541 doz.

Pork—fresh, frozen

and cured . . . 17,586,268 lbs.

Beef—fresh, frozen

and cured . . . 9,244,327 lbs.

Veal . . . 2,324,711 lbs.

Mutton and Lamb . . . 1,871,147 lbs.

Poultry . . . 2,597,625 lbs.

All that now remains is to find the money to buy.

Upon investigation by a committee of fruit growers it is found that three quarters of a million more boxes of apples in the Okanagan have been marketed than originally estimated. It is said that fruit growers are facing an economic crisis as a result.

REASON ENOUGH

During the absence of a minister, a load of hay upset in front of his house. When he returned, the boy who was a Swede, was working as hard as he could to get the load back on the wagon. It being dinner time, the minister invited him in to dinner at which the boy replied:

"Ay no tank me fatter lak it."

"Oh he won't care," said the minister.

The boy consented to come in, but every little while he would exclaim:

"Ay no tank me fatter lak it."

At last in impatience the minister said:

"Why in the world will your father care if you stop here and eat dinner?" At which the boy replied:

"Me fatter, he bane under dot load of hay."

The earlier threshed grain from the southern part of Alberta showed remarkably high protein, according to tests made from many points, it is reported by the Alberta Wheat Pool. Samples for Hesketh and Idlesleigh showed a protein content of 19 per cent, while many others points supplied samples of wheat which tested from 15 to 18 per cent protein content.

WHEAT TO CHINA

FROM ANCIENT LAWS

The continuous fighting between the different factions in China has kept the rice crop very meagre. This makes a market for Canadian wheat, a large quantity of which is on order for export to China during the coming winter. Canada, to hold her market in the Orient, has to compete with Japan, whose control of the Manchurian railroad gave her an opening to lay Japanese produce in China at a very low figure.

When the world was regulated by Roman law it was a recognized axiom that the fruits of the soil were the property of the producer rather than of the man who happened to own the land. Also that these fruits were liable for the producer's debts.

The tendency in some directions in these times so far distant from Roman rule has been conveniently to forget the old axiom. The result has been that on occasion land owners have passed ownership of their holdings over to others, under the impression that by so doing they might continue to farm the property free from danger of having the crops attached by their personal creditors.

This wrong impression is very clearly corrected in a recent judgment in which Louis A. Moellendorf contested the validity of executions placed by his creditors against crops raised by him on land owned by his wife and other persons, handed down by Chief Justice Harvey and published in much condensed form in the Herald.—Calgary Herald.

CONTROL OF WEEDS

A weed inspector writing in one of our exchanges, gives advice regarding the control of weeds at threshing time, while not new, is always worth repeating:

"Any thistle patches that are not found before harvest should not go through the threshing machines, as this is where most of the scattering of these weeds is done. Weed seeds are scattered on the road allowances and in the fields by the bundle racks and threshing machines, and every farmer should see that the racks and machines are cleaned before coming to the farm, and also before leaving. If this is done there will be less weeds to contend with. The bundle rack should also be cleaned before moving to different fields on the farm. There is always some part which is cleaner than others. There is always enough time for this to be done, and you are in your right to demand this according to the Weed Act.

Livestock of any kind should not be allowed in the fields before all weed seeds have been thoroughly cleaned up after threshing machines, and this should be done as quickly as possible after the machine has left. Many of the weeds are scattered in this way.

Tourists Steal Bedclothes as They Travel On Their Way

A party of five guests, including three men, a woman and a child stopped at the old Alberta hotel Saturday night arriving about 9 p.m. They were conspicuous by the number of large suitcases they carried. They left Sunday morning after paying their bill. Shortly afterwards it was discovered that about $50 worth of bedclothes was missing. Chief Stewart and Corpl. McWilliams were notified and a description sent out. It is reported that the car passed through Nanton and a policeman stepped on the running board to speak to the driver but was pushed off and the car went on—Okotoks Review.

Some Labor unions are protesting against the use of machinery in work intended for the relief of unemployment, which recalls the remark made by a New York Irishman when he first saw a steam shovel: "You can puff and you can snort," he said, "but be jabbers there's one thing you can't do—you can't vote."

A total of 247 teachers have registered with J. W. Barnett, secretary of the Teachers' Alliance, as being unable to secure work for the winter. Teachers holding first class certificates as well as those with lower certificates are out of work and the majority are in the southern part of the province.

Hon. McConnel, prov. treas. of Saskatchewan, claims that that province has loaned more money this year to farmers than any other in Western Canada, and he insists that despite this, the farmers must maintain sufficient stock to meet their own needs this winter.
